"Sweet Smelling Wood"

I don't care if you've gone so far away that night
You're in my heart, celebrations have gone, ...it really was the light!
I won't forget, the sweet smell on the way, your arms covered this place
Did you really need to extent to the sky?
Anyway you've reached the light
Forever, you said, you will grow
Oh your shade left breathless the crowd
Forever we thought you'd be there
I don't believe, the shadow you made would turn into a light
And leave the soil, the soil I love
After another silent love, let's say it's over
All I see now is just a bare ground
There's no cedar
And ever I'll retain the branches so large...
Even now you are still in my heart!
