You should not forget that my life belongs to me
Strong enough to respect yourself, you should do your very best
You! Look at me. Look me in the eyes Talk! Talk to me as if you were a friend of mine for so long

Hold on spark, light up my mind
Hold on spark, you will be my tune
Hold on spark, light up my mind
Hold on spark, my tune...hold on!
Hold on!

The glimpse to the stage will not show me trial
...and the trial has just began

Hold on spark, light up my life
Hold on spark, my tic and toc Hold on! Hold on!

I will show you my bad side and you can't judge me this way
There's one spark missing to let you burn to the darkness
You, you always talked to me ... be what I am
I, I always thought it will be good!
When will there be more to say?
Let us delete the memory of childhood
When will there be more to say? ...please tell me more!

You should not forget that my life belongs to me
Strong enough to forget yourself, you should do your very best
You! Look at me. Look me in the eyes
Talk to me as if you were a friend of mine for so long
The glimpse to the stage will not show me until the end
...and the trial has just began
Talk! Talk to me I will show you my bad side
And you won't judge me this way There's one spark missing to let us burn to the darkness

You, always told me to be what I am
What are we through?
