I believe that everyone in life should have a mission,
Making people happy is the height of my ambition;
When I get them happy, well, they stay in that condition;
I have a system all my own.

I've got a lot, a lot of what I've got,
And what I've got's all mine,
And I assure you, I can cure you, if you're feeling blue;
Come up and see me sometime.

I've got a flat where you can hang your hat,
And I've got a brand-new line,
And maybe you would like me to explain it all to you;
Come up and see me sometime.

Come up tonight;
I think the paper said the moon will be bright;
They should have had it in the columns and all,
Letters that tall,
That you'd be falling for me.

'Cause I am free, and you appeal to me,
But how could it be a crime?
If you don't get my number, well, my number's in the
book;
Come up and see me sometime.

Spoken: Aw, come up and see me sometime, will you, huh? Aw, aw, you can come up and see me sometime, too, aw, and bring your music with you.

Come up tonight;
I think the paper said the moon would be bright;
They should have had it in the columns and all,
With letters that tall,
Uh, huh, that you'd be falling for me.

'Cause I am free, and you appeal to me,
Tell me, how could it be a crime?
If you don't get my number, well, my number's in the book,

Come up and see me sometime, hmmm, if you can take it,
Come up and see me sometime, will you, toots?
Hmmm?
