For tonight for tonight
The dark is night no moon no stars are
Shining bright

All the fiends, miseries
Disappearing for the first time in my life

Only tonight
We'll say yes one last time
Sirens are like wedding chime
I see the light I see the light now (only tonight)
When colors slowly turn black and white

Finally you're walking next to me
Take my hand and hold it never let never let go

Comfort me and keep me company
Hold my hand and don't let go

For tonight for tonight
This thorn in my side feels perfectly alright

Falling deep into peaceful sleep
The hospital bed seems like a chapel
From my dream

Only tonight
We'll say yes one last time

Sirens are like wedding chime
I see the light I see the light now (only tonight)
And all the colors turn black and white
Tonight

Finally you're walking next to me
Take my hand and hold it never let never let go

Comfort me and keep me company
Hold my hand and don't let go

For tonight for tonight
The dark is ment so hold me tight

Finally you're walking next to me
Take my hand and hold it never let never let go

Comfort me and keep me company
Hold my hand and don't let go

Finally you're walking next to me
Take my hand and hold it never let never let go

Comfort me and keep me company
Hold my hand and don't let go
