

Alkaline Trio

"Goodbye Forever"

Visit "Goodbye Forever" on MotoLyrics.com

Take your wings outside, you can't fly in here
Besides a purple sky, better soaring for you my angel
You're an angel, you little devil
As for me I'll stay inside, I'll be just fine and I'll watch from the window

Cannot categorize the nature of this sickness
A miracle that you're alive, stuck to the roof of my mouth with a staple Remember last April when we saw U.S. maple?
Somehow the singer showed the fireside exactly how I feel

And we say goodbye and go underground
Or up towards the sky, up in smoke burnt down to size
At least we're still friends, at least we're still alive

Take your wings outside, no use for them in here Bad luck to open inside, work like umbrellas like a broken mirror
It's getting clearer, the end is closer than ever before And you'll want nothing more, when your head hits the floor
And you're lost in the darkness

And we say goodbye and go underground
Or up towards the sky, up in smoke burnt down to size
At least we're still friends, at least we're still alive

And we say goodbye and go underground
Or up towards the sky, up in smoke burnt down to size
At least we're still friends, at least we're still alive

Visit Alkaline Trio page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.