This house is full of ears but I can't talk to anyone They've heard this one a thousand times
Most exciting thing I do, hang half way out a third floor window
Maybe throw lit cigarettes down

And maybe I'll catch fire something warm to hold me Something pure to burn away the darkness that hides
inside my mind
All that evil shit's not hard to find I guess I only claim to be nice

This house is full of eyes but I can't look at anyone They've seen this face a thousand times Most relaxing thing I do, hang half way out a third floor
And look at rocks if I fall out

Well, maybe I'll fall hard something tough to break me Something sharp to rip into my insides and bleed out all that pain Sorry I don't even know your name I guess for me it's easy this way

Maybe I'll catch fire something warm to hold me Something pure to burn away the darkness that hides
inside my mind
All that evil shit's not hard to find I guess I only claim to
be nice
