"Over and out," she said from a hospital bed
"For what it's worth, it doesn't hurt, don't cry"
"Over and out," he said with a .45 to his head
"The war has taken everything from me, it's all I've seen"

So run for cover as fast as you can
We're fighters, lovers, enemies, friends
And guns and knives, apologize for leaving you tonight
Leaving you tonight

"Over and out," he sighed, "It seems I've run out of time
Please, tell my wife I loved her more than life itself"
"Over and out," she sang as the telephone rang
"There's no pain, no answering no more, no"

So run for cover as fast as you can
We're fighters, lovers, enemies, friends
And guns and knives apologize for leaving you

Run for cover and you'll find us there
We'll take out the anguish, make it disappear
With hand grenades and napalm flames
I'm leaving you tonight

Let this candle burn 'til you get home
Never forget your face, never lose hope tonight

Run for cover as fast as you can
We're fighters, lovers, enemies, friends
And guns and knives apologize for leaving you

Run for cover and you'll find us there
(Over and out)
We'll take on the anger, make it disappear
(Over and out)
With razorblades we're softly serenading you
