I got the scars to remind me
Of watching the clocks go round
Worked myself through somedays
But it put me where I am in another time, In another place

Loving might have been in place
But for now, I'm finding myself
Fighting, standing on a rooftop screaming

Hey world, are you listening?
Listen to me!
I'm here and I'm willing
To begin again

It's another time, it's another place
We are making moral pace
But for now I'm finding myself
Fighting, standing on the doorstep screaming

Hey world, are you listening?
Listen to me!
I'm here and I'm willing
To begin again

Hey world, I'm ready to listen (burns)
Learn something new (smokes weed)
I'm here and I'm willing
To get myself though
