Code 64
"Exit"

Day after day is there a way out
Can't you see that they are using you
Day after day is there a way out
Oh Can't you see that they are holding you back Don't let them break you Never let them bring you down,
Cause you are so much more

You are a storm,
set yourself free
And let them know,
that you are so much more

that you are a storm,
set yourself free!
And let them know,
that you are so much more

Is this why we where brought here Should we live our lives like this Forgetting all about things that really matter Living your life like this Is there a way out
