Lost all my sense praying for light
Don't know where to start my search
I woke up with blood on my hands
Can't remember what I have done

I've tried to separate the truth from the lies
Tried to understand what's wrong and what's right
Will I ever find a way, a way that would make me free

Run, beyond the dark, far from the world that keeps us
Alive without a heart
Beyond the dark, far from the evil ones that keeps our
Souls apart

I desperate cry, noone will hear, won't get me out of
This place
I know is right there, just one more step
I will find what I'm looking for

I've tried to separate the truth from the lies
Tried to understand what's wrong and what's right
Will I ever find a way, a way that would make me free

Run, beyond the dark, far from the world that keeps us
Alive without a heart
Beyond the dark, far from the evil ones that keeps our
Souls apart

Beyond the dark
Keep on running
Keep on running now

I've tried to separate the truth from the lies
Tried to understand what's wrong and what's right
Will I ever find a way, a way that would make me free

Run, beyond the dark, far from the world that keeps us
Alive without a heart
Beyond the dark, far from the evil ones that keeps our
Souls apart
