Spirit Of Truth, lead me home once again;
I've been lying to myself.
I don't have the power You told me to have,
My mind has been somewhere else.
My heart I have hidden; You know how it is:
I'm ashamed to show it all to You!
Forgetting that You are the all-knowing God,
So it's already all known to you!

Chorus:

Oh, Spirit of Christ,
take my soul by the hand
And lead me to comfort and grace!
Let my heart be renewed now and melted again
In rivers of living faith!

I don't want to resist You, so help me to know
The way to be filled once again;
Just when I think I'm so smart and I know,
It's then that I'm empty within.
So teach me repentance whenever Your Light
Reveals the sins in my soul;
May the Spirit of Truth now abide in my heart;
May Your blood touch and make me whole! (Chorus)

So help me return, Lord, whenever Your light
Reveals the sins in my soul;
And let me surrender completely to You:
May Your blood touch and make me whole!
(Chorus)
