She's a pretty little girl
So she's never alone
You see her pretty walking by
And want her for your own
In every room she's in
Every eye's on her
Memorizing every line
Every move and every curve

Of all the pretty little girls
You know she is the queen
From all the pretty little pictures
In the pretty magazines
You tell her that you love her
But she won't know how you feel
She's as pretty as a picture
But only half as real

You gave so much
You had to know
It took so little
To hurt you so

She's learned that a pretty girl
Can smile and get her way

It so happens that it's certain
That it happens everyday
Anything she wants she can get so easily
And a pretty little girl is all she ever has to be

You gave so much
You had to know
It took so little
You hurt you so
But you can bet
That she shed some tears for you
But I bet you that they were
A pretty little precious few

Now your eyes are open
Can't you see just what she's done?

She's made of fool of many others
And you're just another one
From her pretty little head
To her pretty little toes
Pretty little on her mind
Precious little in her soul
