All in my mind but there's no shaking
Scary, sad things out of my mind
Always on time, but there's no time to Bring the scary, sad girl back to life
None in her heart, some of the things
She did seemed almost nice
I can't stop the blush when things aren't right
But I'm too scary, sad to cry

Feel it so strong but she's done it so wrong
All those scary, sad things; scary sad things

Every time she slit her wrists I wish she hit instead of missed
Every secret family crime, all my love a waste of time

Every doctor, every shrink, every bloody bathroom sink
All the filth we tried to hide, just a face I needed to be beside

Scary, sad girl leave my happy lone world
All those scary, sad things are what any love brings

Every girl that I ever hated was just a monster that I created

Maybe if I close my eyes real tight then the scary, sad Things will go away and I'll quit living in yesterday
I'll just smile and laugh at all the scary, sad Things you put me through

None of the doctors could find a cure
Just a scary, sad girl in a scary, sad world
None of the shrinks could make her think
About anyone else but her
I want to go home, I want my mom to make
The bad things go away
I want to forget I could ever let any Scary, sad girl treat me that way

Feel it so strong, but she's done it so wrong
All those scary, sad things; scary, sad things

Truth comes out in dreams at night
Cause she's done it so right
All those scary, sad things; scary sad things
