tell me if this sounds familiar to you. the girl you know is not the girl you knew. she doesnt say the things she used to say.and the things she does she does a brand new way. she says im just living in the past and our love will never last with all this pressure that you are under from your peers. telltale signs. she dont love you anymore. weve been through this scenario before and the pain is more that i can endure. where is the romance that got us to here? because you know my heart needs to be near. she says im just living in the past and our love will never last with all this pressure that you are under from your peers. telltale signs. she dont love you anymore.
