i really don't care about world affairs i keep myself in line i really don't care about politix it's just a waste of time i'm not as dumb as you think i am i might know a thing or two i really don't care about nothing at all but i think the world of you i really don't care about world peace i try not to be a jerk i really don't care about the meaning of life or my place in the universe i'm not as dumb as you think i am i might know a thing or two i really don't care about nothing at all but i think the world of you i'm not phobic, philic, sick or blind people want to judge me they exercise their open minds call me names and make fun of me i'm not as dumb as you think i am i might know a thing or two i really don't care about nothing at all but i think the world of you i really don't care about nothing at all but i think the world of you i really don't care about nothing at all but i think the world of you
