Our bodies have torn in places
I see a darkness, so I'll just face it
We went to cities
The cities have faces
Everything's moving
Everything changes
We've got the things that we need
We've got the things that we've saved
We've got the things that we've seen
Some things are better left unsaid
We've heard the voice of God
We've got the marks on our heads
Our houses turned into graves

Our bodies have torn in places
I see a darkness
We all just face it
We all got cities
We all got names here
We all got things that we have hidden in the ground here
We got it, we got it, we all gotta change

Everything's moving
Everything changes so fast

We've heard the things that God said
We've got the marks on our head
Our houses turned into graves
Some people better left for dead
