She don't talk.

She just hangs around everyone just watching.

They don't get it.

If she should say, either way I should start listening.

But I feel I'm leaving out the best parts.

I really think so.

Cutting out that man's heart,

But what do I know.

If I should say,

I would stay here for the sake of completion,

Take my deletion.

And they don't know

Ways to make the things they've shown become haunting.

And it's revealing

They're leaving out the best parts.

I really think so,

Cutting out the last heart

But what do I know.

She don't talk

She just hangs around parts of the house just laughing.

They don't get it.

She's leaving out the best parts

I really think so,

Cutting out that man's heart

But what do I know.
