Well goodbye.
It was long ago
and I've tired to let you go,
but why
am I still in love with you?

I don't cry myself to sleep,
but I still lie in these empty sheets.
So tell my why
am I still in love with you?

am I still in love with you?

This time I feel something going on,
but she don't feel nothing going on
is it me, or do I just pick wrong
I don't know
I wish I knew

The new light of the dawning sun means another night has up and run but tell me why
am I still in love with you?

am I still in love with you?
am I still in love with you?
