"Rebellion of Soul"

I choosed live behind sealed doors
There are pieces that i can't get together
While thinking that there's no sense of taking a breath
I have delayed signs of life

While the rebellion of soul wraps my body
The more i lose my battles
While i ruin myself with a piece of idea
I have a keep that can't resist

There is no other choice but to obey the rules
The extension of life loneliness is my only guide

I choosed live behind sealed doors
There are pieces that i can't get together
While thinking that there's no sense of taking a breath
I have delayed signs of life

Its too late if you live to die.
