I tried everything i could for a cause
I tried even when i know i'll lose again
Even while you seem to be the one that lost all the time
Realized later that i began with a loss

You were the one who returned, i was the one ready to lose
Brought back the fake smile you wear
I was the one who left,
while going was the solution for you

Stop using the complexity of misery, stop killing my hopes
Not anymore, the last struggle of my dream unobtainable

Living in the edge of apathy, even your presence doesnt give a hope
The usual rules repeats itself
And i'm carrying on

Brought back the fake smile you wear
I was the one who left,

Not anymore, the last struggle of my dream unobtainable
