A million years have come and gone the Earth is shifting towards the sun synthetic atmosphere is lost and forces the computers off communications are confused the tides reverse and start a chain reaction the seismograph's consulted incredible results it says we're losing all control, losing all control the scientists around the world decipher everything they do but they don't really know, they don't really know instead of systematic, the news becomes erratic no-one can agree, no-one can agree the world is getting frantic as people start a panic what does all this mean?

the sun is moving closer and the atmosphere gets hotter as the system overloads, system overloads fighting these adverse conditions, loading for the expedition everyone must go, everyone must go the fools that think the worst is over they won't live to be much older why do they remain, why do they remain everything is ready, everyone that's coming has been safely brought on board the time has come to leave again

activate
the Noah plan returning to the universe
give out the word
abandon Earth

? and pounding and increasing as the ship is taking off, ship is taking off the electronic shields protect us from the heat we're slowly breaking lose, slowly breaking lose the ship is lifting higher, the Earth is growing smaller as we leave the atmosphere, leave the atmosphere we watch the Earth get closer, getting closer, getting closer as it drifts into the sun

activate
returning to
the universe
give out the word
abandon Earth
