

All 4 One "Key To Your Heart"

Visit "Key To Your Heart" on MotoLyrics.com

No, no

Cold wind's blowing, confusions growing Signs showing, nobody's home
Peer through your window, nothing but an empty soul Where'd you move? Where'd you go?

Am I too late to stop this?
I'm in disbelief, I keep knocking
But the carving in that old oak tree, said forever you and me
The one thing I believed in has failed me

When everyone was looking from the outside in
I got to know you behind closed curtains
And be the one to make sure that you're safe and warm

How could you leave me all alone in the cold at the door
Without a key to your heart?
How could you leave me? No goodbye, boy, I'm gone,
movin' on
And now my love won't survive

Where can I mail off and send this pent up emotion?
'Cause you don't live here anymore
How could you leave me all alone in the cold at the
door
Without a key to your?

Heart's pounding, yelling loudly
Throwing rocks at your windows
Trying to kick it, put my shoulder into it
And once more tried the handle

And the telephone's disconnected
No more electricity I'm assuming With our prints in the cement remember when we were six
Wish we could be there again

When everyone was looking from the outside in

I got to know you behind closed curtains
And be the one that made sure that you're safe and warm

How could you leave me all alone in the cold at the
door
Without a key to your heart?
How could you leave me? No goodbye, boy, I'm gone,
movin' on
And now my love won't survive

Where can I mail off and send this pent up emotion?
'Cause you don't live here anymore
How could you leave me all alone in the cold at the
door
Without a key to your heart?

You said you'd never leave, this home feels so empty
Tell me where did you go, go?
Never saw a moving sign, just locked out wondering why
Your heart don't live here no more

How could you leave me all alone in the cold at the
door
Without a key to your heart?
How could you leave me? No goodbye, boy, I'm gone,
movin' on
And now my love won't survive

Where can I mail off and send this pent up emotion?
'Cause you don't live here anymore
How could you leave me all alone in the cold at the
door
Without a key to your heart?

Visit All 4 One page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.