I see the chill of autumn's wind
Seasons changing once again
Every moment pass
Until one moment less we spent
But together my friend
I can't hold back these tears in my eyes
This time I won't even try
Time has come and gone
Now we must move on
I'll admit I don't know why

Now we must say good-bye
To find out road ahead
Destiny leads us on to another place
And I'll meet you there someday

We chase the future into past
Only to find that it never last
By the time it's gone
The pain is so strong
And yet, I'll be missing my friend
Though we lost what was before
Forever will bring us the chance once more
In that time we'll see what was meant to be
A special moment to cherish for all of our lives
And we'll know we've come

Now we must say good-bye
To find out road ahead
Destiny leads us on to another place
And I'll meet you there someday

From a life we all leave behind
We'll find there's much more ahead
Father will lead us on to a better place
And I'll meet you there someday
I'll meet you there someday
I'll meet you there someday
