"Second Wind"

Long distance run from darkness, headed into the sun
And it seems like eternity till this race is won Soul and spirit, weak and weary, strength was almost gone
When a soothing gentle breeze carried me further on

I've got my second wind, Spirit's coming again
I've got a new revelation of the King of kings I've got my second wind, I feel my strength returning again
Returning again

Through the desert night, in darkness racing toward the light
And there were too many hills to climb, too many battles to fight
Then distant lights were calling, beckoned me as a guest
When I saw an oasis there I entered into a rest

I've got my second wind, Spirit's coming again
I've got a new revelation of the King of kings
again
Returning again

Just when I thought I couldn't run any longer
I got my second wind
Just when I thought I wouldn't be any stronger
I got my second wind

Just when I thought that I would fall into darkness
I got my second wind
Just when I thought that I would fail every test
I got my second wind

I've got my second wind, Spirit's coming again
I've got a new revelation of the King of kings
I've got my second wind, Spirit's coming again
I've got a new revelation of the King of kings

I've got my second wind, I've got my second wind

I've got my second wind, oh, I've got my second wind,
yeah
I've got my second wind, I've got my second wind
I've got my second wind, oh, I've got my second wind,
yeah
