"Nowhere Fast"

It's so hard to talk to you
You tell that there's nothing wrong
And you hold things out for way too long
And I can't get close to you
I'm never sure what I should say
When you keep pushing me away
And all that wanted was to be happy at last
Lately it seems like I've been getting
Getting nowhere fast
I've been getting nowhere
And I can't understand
Because I think I'm an okay guy
But you said that I never tried
And you never take blame
That's not the way that it should be
It's not my responsibility
