Six o'clock, all the closing shops
And the rainbows on the pavements
Of a sleepy town

October leaves were wept from the trees
In tears of grief and strange relief
And sympathy all for me

Do you remember walking out
The day it rained forever?
And you were wondering
If I held dreams of wedding rings

Well, farewell Mr. Sorrow
Farewell Mr. Sorrow
Tomorrow is my own

I believe we made a vow
Beside the fireside but I'm sure I lied
When I promised you

That I would never want to sing
Along with anything
But for the strings of your guitar

Do you remember walking out
The day it rained forever?
And you were wondering
If I held dreams of wedding rings

Well, farewell Mr. Sorrow
Farewell Mr. Sorrow
Tomorrow is my own

So this is how a Judas kisses
This is my kiss

Do you remember walking out
The day it rained forever?
You were wondering
If I held dreams of wedding rings

Well, farewell Mr. Sorrow
Farewell Mr. Sorrow
Farewell Mr. Sorrow
Farewell Mr. Sorrow
Tomorrow is my own
