

All About Eve "Rhythm of Life"

I'm nowhere that I've ever been
I'm no one, I can't remember me
Make it all go, you're showing me heaven
Your door is always closed
Like the church doors are

When you need a little Jesus
Outside His business hours
You know, where were you
When I needed you to

Hold me
Give a little beat of your heart to me
You've got to hold me
It's like the rhythm of life to me

You've got to hold me
A little beat of your heart to me
You've got to hold me
The rhythm of life to me

How I long to take some comfort from your arms
I am denied, I never relied
On the comfort or charity of strangers
Hear all the low, lonely lullabies I love
Dearer than life

The warmth of a friend that I could depend on
To listen to me

And hold me
Give a little beat of your heart to me
You've got to hold me
It's like the rhythm of life to me

You've got to hold me
A little beat of your heart to me
You've got to hold me
The rhythm of life

What would they find in the ashes then
A paper doll who thought she was a dancer

Fusing with the molten gray of a soldier of tin
Who happened once along her way?

Hold me
Give a little beat of your heart to me
You've got to hold me
It's like the rhythm of life to me

You've got to hold me
A little beat of your heart to me
You've got to hold me
The rhythm of life
