(Terry Kirkman)

Cherish is the word I use to describe
All the feeling that I have hiding here for you inside

You don't know how many times I've wished that I had told you
You don't know how many times I've wished that I could hold you
You don't know how many times I've wished that I could mold you
Into someone who could cherish me as much as I cherish you

Cherish is the word that more than applies To the hope in my heart each time I realize

That I am not going to be the one to share your dreams That I am not going to be the one to share your schemes
That I am not going to be the one to share what seems To be the life that you could cherish as much as I cherish yours

Oh, I'm beginning to think that man has never found
The words that could make you want me
That have the right amount of letters, just the right sound
That could make you hear, make you see That you are driving me out of my mind

If I just say I need you, oh, then you'd realize That I want you and I could never disguise
How much I love you when every nerve in me cries Out for the moment when you touch my face, my hands
And gaze into my eyes
Yeah

Cherish is the word I use to describe
All the feeling that I have hiding here for you inside

You don't know how many times I've wished that I had

told you
You don't know how many times I've wished that I could hold you
You don't know how many times I've wished that I could
mold you
cherish you

And I do
Cherish you
Cherish is the word
