Something that's so hard to explain
But when you see her you'll know
As she stares a hole right through me after the show

She looks so good so why complain
And whispers in my ear
Crazy shit that no one else will hear

She wants to leave yeah
She's ready to go
She wants to please you
But you can never take her, never take her home.

It's not that she's easy
No she's not a slut
But when she gets what she likes she just can't get

Enough

You know she's so sleazy
But in a subtle way
As she waits till she can corner you to say

She wants to leave yeah
She's ready to go
She wants to please you
But you can never take her, never take her home.

She's lonely but never alone
She's only a filtho

She wants to leave yeah
She's ready to go
She wants to please you
But you can never take her, never take her home...
