I -- I never thought that
I'd see the day that you would break apart
And when...
When did depression
Find a way
To break your fucking heart
With -- unanswered questions
When there's no reason for the sudden change
Things may never be the same again - yeah
You've got to take control
I've got to catch myself
Before I fall apart again
Show me there's something more
Than upset and regret
Show me there's something more
Than crashing into the end
I can't decide

I can't decide
Is it worth that much to you?
As much as this means to me
I can't decide
I can't decide
Is it worth that much to you?
Or just nothing
I -- I never thought that
I'd see the day that you would break apart
And when...
When did depression
Find a way
To break your fucking heart
With -- unanswered questions
When there's no reason for the sudden change
Things may never be the same again - yeah
You've got to take control
