I fell asleep last night saying sorry
But I can't let it get to me
It's nothing new to feel this way
Opening up the bottle just to hear you say

(Chorus)

We don't have good days anymore
We don't have good days anymore
And I can fool myself
Because tomorrow is a brand new day

Let's deck these halls with promises of letting go
Please tell me that you'll lock the door
Take apart my mind with these thoughts of a pessimist
Because things aren't all right now

(Chorus)

It was a good day
It was a good day
And I will fool myself because
Tomorrow is a brand new day
It was a good day
And I will fool myself
