Something strange
Somehow I get the feeling
I'm where everyone knows your name
It's not much different
But it's surely not the same

You'll find peace in knowing now
I'm so sick and tired of hearing myself
Believe me, I never guessed
You had one up your sleeve
Well, there I go

So smile you've done your part
But I'm waiting for someone to say
I can't take it any more, yeah
I can't take it any more, yeah
What's so wrong with being sad

Left alone
I was stuck to go over all the things
That I've done wrong
Sure I was stuck in a hole
But now we've got our song

After all the love is gone
Where'd you get off saying it's not so lame
We've had it different and
I know we're not the same
Well, there I go

So smile you've done your part
But I'm waiting for someone to say
I can't take it any more, yeah
I can't take it any more, yeah
What's so wrong with being sad

So smile you've done your part
But I'm waiting for someone to say
I can't take it any more, yeah
I can't take it any more, yeah
What's so wrong with being sad

Can't take it any more
Any more
So wrong with being sad
Yeah
