This indian girl walks out into traffic
The traffic stops then she's causing havok and then Roll up the windows dial the cellphone
Get the cops to get out here
I just want to get home

She says do you remember Buffalo?
The dumb white people they all say do you mean niel young springfield?
She says no, and
Cleveland isn't the home of indians
Not even eskimos it feels like you just don't want to know

She says take me around
Dance me outside
Show me a place where we might hide
What I want then I'm afraid that you can't afford to buy

This indian girl
Spinning like a toy top
Her hair spreads out like fire and it's like she just can't stop
And then the cops come

Donut guard state car
Rolling up along the side
With the fire lanterns burning
The sirens opened wide and they say
Excuse me little miss
It's time to take this home
And they try to get her address
She says sorry I don't have one
It's only we and the feeding fields
Look where you are
She kicks at the hem of her skirt
And on go the cars

She says take me around
Dance me outside
Show me a place where we might hide

What I want then I'm afraid that you can't afford to buy

This indian girl
Feeling cold and tired
Wouldn't mind some help then
But the cars go by it's no wonder why
All they want to do
Is go and get away
