Who am I oh sovereign one that you
Bless my name and call me friend?
For I've been lost in the wilderness, searching for you
There are those who shun my name and
Block my path in the eyes of man
Religious fools laboring to hide your word
Shelter me from the storms
My enemies are attacking me
But I'm stuck on you because
Everything that you said
Has come true
But I'm stuck on you because
Everything you said has come true

Am I worthy to call your name even though
I've sinned time and time again?
For I've been lost in the wilderness, searching for you

Shelter me Lord from the storms
My enemies are attacking me
But I'm stuck on you because
Everything that you said
Has come true
But I'm stuck on you because
Everything you said
Has come true
