With endless sorrow in our hearts
We pass the point of no return
Still feeling the last touch of your lips
I fade away with no regrets

So lost we are in this dream
Fearing that daylight kills the night
Together, apart, encouraged by fear
Drink the last wine with me, my dear

Dead silence all around me
I feel my heart is sore
Dead silence falling on me
And I can cry no more

We summoned the moon to light our paths
The soil we walk with stone cold hearts
I waste my last breath and call your name
No other soul can feel the same

The love that poisoned our hearts
Is tearing open the aging scars
A kiss so soft, it hurts like hell
The moment is here for last farewell
