Take me along, ride the wind
Like a song in the breeze.
To where I belong, draw me into
Your love and Your peace.
Burdened with burdens and
Laying them before Your feet.
No longer weary of
Placing my heart in Your keep.

Wandering star I was drifting
So far, far away.
But love filled Your heart and
You brought me to this very day.
Bathed in Your glory,
I bow down before You and pray.

Believing the story, You're coming,
There'll be no delay.

Oh how Your spirit moves me, moves me on.

Leaving behind me my old clothes,
They're dirty with shame.
Living the new life cause
I chose to walk in Your name.
Burdened with burdens and
Laying them before Your feet.
No longer weary of
Placing my heart in Your keep.

Oh how Your spirit moves me, moves me on.
