

Philosopher Kings

"Everyone'll Let You Down"

Visit "Everyone'll Let You Down" on MotoLyrics.com

Ok now let me get it

Why do you talk that way?
Why you so stuck on money?
Now it's the top of the world
But it's beneath the girl I love

You used to speak my name
And you filled it up
And you filled my name up
Filled it up with your spirit

Did he raise a fire?
Did you roll up in flames?
Turn to black and yellow
Did you think of me at all?

And how we cut ourselves
On all the sharp tongues in town
When you thought that I could
Never let you down?

My baby died in North Carolina
When she traded me in at the
Newbourne city diner
Remember when you thought that I
Could never let you down

Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down

I'm just an empty hand
And a swollen belly
Born upside down
Guess I'll die before my time

Can't I love you madly
When it's not that way?
When it's not the other way
Not the other way around

C'mon and walk me home
With your blessed body
Paint your name on my lips
And the rest comes naturally

Did you scare yourself
And hide that face in the ground?
When you thought that I could
Never let you down

My baby died in North Carolina
When she traded me in at the
Newbourne city diner
Remember when you thought that I
Could never let you down

Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down

Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down
Everyone'll let you down

All good things, and all the bad things
And they all fall down
All fall, fall down, down, down
Down down let it down
Let it feel you
Let it ever feel you

Everyone'll let you down
Everybody
Everybody
Everybody

...

Visit Philosopher Kings page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.