How many times do I have to say that I love you
How many times do I have to say the words
I will hold you, I will love you
I will think the whole world of you

I stumble past your misfortunes and drag them to the ground
When I see your tiny faults. I turn my head around
I turn my head around, I turn my head around
I turn my head around, I turn my head around

How many times do I have to say that I love you
How many times do I have to say the words
Although I hate to see you lonely
I can't just think about you only

I won't believe any claim you make to be worse off than you are
When I see your tiny faults, I turn my head around
I turn my head around, I turn my head around
I turn my head around, I turn my head around

La, la la la, la, la, turn my head around
La, la la la, la, la, turn my head around
La, la la la, la, la, turn my head around

I turn my head around
How many times do I have to say the words

I stumble past your misfortunes and drag them to the
ground
When I see your tiny faults, I turn my head around
I turn my head around, I turn my head around
I turn my head around, I turn my head around

You're Venus of all love
[Incomprehensible]
Venus of all love
If it's gonna make you happy
Gonna make you happy, gonna make you happy

La, la la la, la la, turn my head around

La, la la la, la la, turn my head around
La, la la la, la la, turn my head around
La, la la la, la la, turn my head around
