So you've finally hit your wall
You feel like you've lost it all
Like the weight of the world's comes crashing down
Hey it's all right
You're not the only one who needs someone
To save your life
We're all searching
Don't know where we're going
We're trying to find our way
We're only human
We all have days we're down
We've all been lost in the crowd
We all fall short and we all make mistakes
But you pick yourself up when you fight
You do what you need to survive
So breathe every breath like it's the last one you'll take
Hey it's all right
You're not the only one who needs someone
To save your life
We're all searching
Don't know where we're going
We're trying to find our way
We're only human
We're only human
You'll come back around
You'll come back around
You'll come back around
It'll bring you down
It'll bring you down
You'll come back around
Hey it's all right
You're not the only one
Hey it's all right
We're all just trying to find our way
Hey it's all right
You're not the only one who needs someone
To save your life
We're all searching
Don't know where we're going
We're trying to find our way
Trying to find our way
We're only human

We're only human
We're only human
Trying to find our way
We're only human
