There's a million things to tell you but the words get in
my way,
I mean here I stand before you, there's not one single thing to say.
You're the one that picks me up when my life has gone
astray.
You're the kicker to my heartbeat, you're the words that I can't say.

Do you think I'm laughing, you know, you don't realize
when it comes to dealing with me you know, I can sympathize.

Sometimes I feel like I'm your struggle, don't want to be....

I'd rather be your never ending, I'd rather be your deep inside. When you cry I wish I could be a salty tear from your eye. Would you swallow me, so I could be so much closer to your soul.

Do you think I'm laughing, you know, you don't realize.
When it comes to dealing with me, you know I can sympathize.
