I said i'm not angry about it. but you're not convinced of that fact. you want to paint a depressing picture. you think i'm down from the flack. but let me make this loud and clear. i hope you'll finally understand. cause this is just a song, another message from a friend. you're free to voice your opinion. while i'm free to laugh in your face. you get along with no sense of humor. you can't keep up with the pace. but let me make this loud and clear. i hope you'll finally understand. cause this is just a song, another message from a friend. but let me make this loud and clear. i hope you'll finally understand. cause this is just a song, another message from a friend.
