Another dead is done,
I hope you get the things that you most wanted, a price that we all pay don't try and act like you are no the reason, i'm almost glad it's happened, happy that you're gone, that you crossed over,
we're better off this way, we never were that tight, you've never been my brother you're just one friend that i never had in the first place one friend that i'll just consider a waste one friend too many, to make it healthy, one friend too many too many for me, the change was bound to come, you gave yourself away with all your sings and symbols,

to each his own I say, it doesn't mean i have to like what i see, you say "no damage done", you find the right wing really does it for you, you're having way more fun, your fucked up attitude is working for you

one friend too many, to make it healthy,
one friend too many too many for me,

we can both co-exist in the same world, put distance in between us, truce on, what do you say?

one friend too many, to make it healthy,
one friend too many too many for me,
