You better tell somebody,
go on, you might as well,
document your feelings, it might be your last chance you can't tell,
scream and shout about it,
make sure it's good and loud, if you're unsure about it, it really doesn't matter anyhow who says there are rules to follow?

will you be around tomorrow?
time out, use your own expression,
you can't take this life for granted - go!

get your pens and pencils, better write this down, cuz soon enough it's over and when your gone this part around, work hard to rise above it, you'll have to figure how a plain and simple message, why be another face amongst the crow?

who says there are rules to follow?
will you be around tomorrow?
time out, use your own expression,
you can't take this life for granted - go!
