See those kids, so young and free
I guess that's how it use ta be
So caught up in themselves, they just don't see

But standing hard gives us this right
To put up walls and to prove our might
And faster, faster must the music go

Farewell to seven years
We bid a fond so long
To seven years
Why'd it take so long?

They're waitin' for old times again
If they support, they'll understand
Our message calls for unity not rage

We see so many ways
To vent the anger in our troubled hearts
Without using it to smash up someone else

Farewell to seven years
We bid a fond so long
To seven years
Why'd it take so long?

And it takes so long
