Ten thousand people moving, just trying to get ahead
We're only human but we make no time to ever take a breath

But caught up in the madness, it should be common sense

To know when life is scattered love is all that matters

Baby, I, I'm not gonna let it be

You know that I'd do anything to keep you holding me

Baby, I would stop the world and take you in

And I would do it all again to love you even more

That's what I'm fighting for, yeah

You're what I'm fighting for

So many people yearning, wake up a wanting more

They break their backs to find exactly what they're not looking for

They sacrifice a diamond to gain a lot of coal

And end up cold and lonely, never letting go

Baby, I, I'm not gonna let it be

You know that I'd do anything to keep you holding me

Baby, I would stop the world and take you in

And I would do it all again to love you even more

That's what I'm fighting for, yeah

You're what I'm fighting for, oh

Everybody's sellin' love to get more time

Baby, I won't be the one to buy that line

You're what I'm fighting for, yeah

You're what I'm fighting for, oh

You're what I'm fighting for, yeah oh

Baby, I would stop the world and take you in

And I would do it all again to love you even more

Baby, I, I'm not gonna let it be

Baby, I would stop the world and take you in

And I would do it all again to love you even more

That's what I'm fighting for, yeah
You're what I'm fighting for, oh
You're what I'm fighting for, oh
You're what I'm fighting for
You're what I'm fighting for
