I'd like to think that I'm alright that I'm not empty every night without your touch to fill me up

And I don't miss your face beside me on that pillowcase but I still do but I won't reach for you

A year from now I'll think about the best of times
and not the love we left behind everytime you cross my mind

A year from now I might even smile when I see your face and you walk in
I don't know where and I sure don't know when I don't know how I guess we'll see so just ask me a year from now

Maybe I'll be where you are and see us as a shooting star That had to fall and that was all

And I can finally face the facts you ain't never coming back and maybe then maybe we can be just friends
A year from now I'll think about the best of times
and not the love we left behind

when I see your face and you walk in
I don't know where and I sure don't know when I don't know how I guess we'll see
so just ask me a year from now

Well a year from now I'll think about the best of times
and not the love we left behind

when I see your face and you walk in
I don't know where and I sure don't know when

I don't know how I guess we'll see
so just ask me a year from now

Yeah I guess we'll see so just ask me a year from now whoa a year from now
