"Wasting the Moon"

It's hard hide a broken heart
But there's nothing much else to do
And even though the clouds are gathering over me
I'm still the one you used
Love brought out the best in us
Love brought out the best in me

I'm sitting here fighting the silence
That you caused when you threw my heart away
We all need someone beside us
Cause I'm so sick of being stuck here
Wasting the moon

I'm still wondering how we fell apart
Cause we made the perfect pair
And how can you expect me to live my dismal life
When there's no one here to hold
Never thought I'd get so close to a heart that felt so dry
