countdown is running for the last hours of our century childhood thoughts are coming are coming back - back to me robots will work for us we spend our holidays on the moon cars will fly and there will be a pill that we never must die what if nostradamus4 prophecies in the end becomes reality what did we learn of the last 2000 years

what did we learn of the last 2000 years

the next millenium questions are running through my mind children of tomorrow clones marching side by side machines controlling us intellectual genocide horror visions - way of progress until suicide
