I'll take my love at first sight
I don't need no promises tonight
It's just a song it's sung and it's gone
I don't get to play for very long

But you wait for me
Standing at the door
Sitting in my room
Sleeping on the floor

It's just a kiss and it don't last
The day is long but the night goes so fast
I put on my boots and I head for the door
I lose again but hey who's keeping score

If love is learning to say goodbye
I've spent all my life just learning to cry
But time will heal the bloodiest scar
No matter how hurt or unlucky you are
