I used to wonder how everybody other than me
Found someone to love
They must've been given a stroke
Of a little bit of luck
But deep in my heart was a place and a part
That only the right one could fill
Well, my prayers must have all gone through
Cuz somebody up there sent me you

Now I've found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' like an angel
Cuz now I found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' more than able
To give you all the secrets
Nobody ever knew
And put the past behind me
Forget about what I have been through
Cuz now I found my little bit of heaven in you

Now every day just shows another way
How a little bit of love can grow
Through the sunshine and rain
And the ups and the downs and the highs and the lows
But I'll just keep believin' in the love we've been feelin'
And take one day at a time
Cuz my prayers have all come true
Cuz somebody up there sent me you

Now I found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' like an angel
Cuz now I found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' more than able
To give you all the secrets
Nobody ever knew
And put the past behind me
Forget about what I have been through
Cuz now I've found my little bit of heaven in you

And now that I've found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' like an angel
Cuz now that I found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' more than able

To give you all the secrets
Nobody ever knew
And put the past behind me
Forget about what I have been through
Cuz now I found my little bit of heaven in you

Now that I've found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' like an angel
Now that I've found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' more than able

Now that I've found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' like an angel
Now that I've found my little bit of heaven
I'm feelin' more than able
